

Scholarships for the Advanced Masters in Structural Analysis of Monuments and Historical Constructions

Author: Graham Thompson<editor@masonry.org.uk>

Applications for the Advanced Masters in Structural Analysis of Monuments and Historical Constructions, approved and financially sponsored by the European Commission within the framework of the Erasmus Mundus programme, have just opened.

This Master Course is organized by a consortium of leading European Universities/Research Institutions in the field, composed by University of Minho (coordinating institution, Portugal), the Technical University of Catalonia (Spain), the Czech Technical University in Prague (Czech Republic), the University of Padua (Italy) and the Institute of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics of the Czech Academy of Sciences (Czech Republic). The course is due to start in October 2007 and will combine the most recent advances in research and development with practical applications.

A significant number of scholarships, ranging from 14000 to 21000 Euro, are available to students of any nationality. All applications received within the application deadline, i.e. no later than January 31, 2007, are also considered as applications to scholarships.

Please find full details on the MSc programme, as well as electronic application procedure, on the website:

<http://www.msc-sahc.org/>